Notes:

1) The "DREAM AAWAS" was registered as Single Real Estate Project consisting of 6 buildings. Out of that, the Promoter's having completed the construction & development in all respects of two Buildings - Building - A & Building - B got the Occupancy Certificate (OC) for these two Buildings - Building - A & Building - B from sanctioning authority - NMRDA as on10-11-2020. Also Form-1 issued by Architect as of date 16-11-20 shows that Building A & B are complete in all respect. Form-4 for Building A & B was issued by Architect on 1-4-21.

2) The buildings (A & B) were 100% complete and having received the Occupancy Certificate, the promoter's started depositing the sales proceeds in the Bank A/c other than Rera Collection account/s with respects to the Apartments sold after 16-11-20 and these collections were not deposited in Rera Collection account.

3) The Promoter's on reading of "Rule 5(1)(i)(b)" of The Maharashtra Real Estate (Regulation & Development) (Registration of Real Estate Projects, Registration of Real Estate Agents, Rates of Interest and Disclosure on website) Rules, 2017 were of the opinion that since the OC was received they were not supposed to deposit the amount in Rera Designated Bank A/c. So this was done as per the interpretation of the above mentioned Rule & they didn't had any other intention.

4) The Promoter's has always respected the intent of RERA Law and has been very regular in depositing the customer proceeds in Collection bank a/c during construction period and when the construction for these two buildings was completed, the Promoter's started receiving the customer proceeds in Non-designated bank a/c only after post OC.

5) For all the Apartments sold or booked, before obtaining the OC, with respect to Buildings A & B the process of depositing the 70% of the amount received from allottees in designated bank accounts (Retention A/c) was followed.

6) The Promoter is depositing the amount received from Booking & Sale of under-construction Building C & Shops in RERA Collection Bank A/c.

7) We have considered the amount received from the Customers of Building A & B for which Form -4 is issued by Architect on 1-4-21 to the extent the same is deposited in Retention A/c. There was no requirement on part of the promoter to deposit the amount in Retention A/c after obtaining the Form-4 from Architect but as the same was deposited we are taking it into consideration for calculating the amount of withdrawal from Designated account

8) Calculation for withdrawal from Designated Bank A/c (Retention A/c)
